(b) the number of civilians and army personnel including those from para-military forces killed in various attacks during the last two years; and

(c) the steps taken by Government to solve the problems of North-East region?

The Government's policy has been, on the one hand, to deal firmly with those indulging in secessionist activities, and, on the other, to encourage them to join the mainstream of the national life provided they accept the Constitution of India and shun violence. Government have accelerated the pace of economic development in the region by making higher allocation of plan funds, undertaking several projects under the Central Sector, and treating all the seven north-eastern States as 'special category States'.
